However, over time, this scar 'capsule' may contract or tighten, which can cause your breasts to look and feel different. Physicians use the Baker Grade Scale to determine the severity of changes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grade I - the breast is soft and appears normal, and the capsule is flexible. • Grade II - the breast looks normal, but is somewhat hard to the touch. • Grade III - the breast is hard, has some distortion caused by contracture, or the breast becomes a rounded shape, or the implant is generally tilted upwards. • Grade IV - similar to grade III but with greater hardening of the capsule. If you're worried about capsular contracture, please talk to your physician.
